MOVING FORWARD.

A chara,

Since his election to Dáil Éireann in 2020, Cormac Devlin has worked tirelessly to represent the people of Dún Laoghaire.

Through his work on the Dáil Public Accounts Committee, Climate Action Committee, and Foreign Affairs Committee he has dealt with many of the pressing issues facing our nation.

As Fianna Fáil Dublin spokesperson he has campaigned for safer communities and an increased Garda presence in the Capital.

I am asking residents in Dún Laoghaire to give Cormac Devlin their 1st preference vote so that he can continue to work on your behalf as we move forward, together.

TOGETHER.

Delivering for Dún Laoghaire

AN PÁIRTÍ POBLACHTÁNACH

Dear Resident

I hope to visit every home in Dún Laoghaire area ahead of polling day and I look forward to meeting you.

The last five years have witnessed some of the most tumultuous events in a generation. The Covid-19 pandemic, wars in Ukraine and the Middle East, the cost-of-living crisis and the fallout from Brexit created unprecedented challenges for us as a community and as a nation.

However, right through these challenges the Government supported households and protected jobs, our longstanding economic strategy has delivered record employment levels and more people are at work than ever before.

The Government introduced a series of reforms under the Housing for All policy that has seen record house building and restored an affordable housing programme.

Locally, the flagship 597-unit Shanganagh Castle public housing development has been completed, we have also delivered thousands of social housing units and waiting lists are moving for the first time in a generation.

However, challenges remain. Despite progress across a range of areas many people do not feel safe in their communities, there is a lack of access to affordable childcare places, mental health and disability services need to be improved, many small businesses are struggling, and the rollout of public transport and infrastructural projects has not been delivered at the pace necessary.

The next Government must be more ambitious for Ireland, delivering safer communities, more affordable childcare places, reliable public transport, supporting SMEs and providing quality public services, while also making work pay by reducing the tax burden.

I want to be part of this change, but I need your support. I am asking for your 1st preference vote on polling day.

Is mise le meas,

Our Key Priorities for a Better Ireland

Delivering More Affordable Housing

Housing for All provides a pathway to housing for families and unprecedented funding to increase the supply of housing.

Under Housing for All, we have delivered 597 new public housing units at Shanganagh Castle. It is the largest public housing scheme since the 1970s and it includes a mix of Social, Cost Rental and Affordable Purchase housing.

597 new homes at Shanganagh Castle

While there is more progress to be made, locally social housing lists are moving and supports for first-time buyers have been significantly enhanced.

Help-to-buy supports must continue for first-time buyers, the renter credit of €1,000 should be increased and there must be a greater focus on delivering more affordable housing.

Improved Public Services

Record Funding has been delivered for public services, but many services are not working as they should, particularly for parents with young children, carers, older people and people living with a disability.

We need to see an overhaul of services such as Progressing Disability to ensure they are user focused and fit for purpose.

We need to see continued investment in childcare, education, healthcare, public transport and higher education to ensure services work for people while also providing value for money for the taxpayer.

To find out more about how we plan to improve public services check out our manifesto at FiannaFáil.ie

Putting Money Back in Your Pocket

Fianna Fáil delivered a budget that will support you and your family with cost-of-living pressures, delivering sustained action on issues such as housing, health and our economy, all the while protecting Ireland's future.

The next Government must continue to assist households with cost-of-living supports, while also reducing the tax burden on workers by expanding tax bands and reducing the USC.

We need to see further progress on reducing inheritance tax and also pro-investment reforms such as bringing returns from Exchange-Traded Funds (ETFs) into line with other capital taxes.

Safer Communities

The current approach to law and order in Dublin isn't working and needs to change. People should be safe and feel safe as they go about their business in the city centre, in our parks, communities & on public transport.

Fianna Fáil is committed to increasing Garda strength, introducing a dedicated public transport unit to police the DART, LUAS & buses. Locally, we need to see investment in facilities such as a new Garda station for Cherrywood.

Delivering for Dún Laoghaire

It has been wonderful to deliver real progress and improvements for Dún Laoghaire over the past 5 years, from thousands of new homes, to the expansion of services in our hospitals and schools, to massive investment in sports facilities.

However, there is more work to be done, we need to see a greater focus on our town & village centres, continued expansion of health services and more investment in community and sport facilities, particularly parks and playing pitches.
